

Emergency Public Procurement: International and Brazilian Institutional Developments in the Face of Covid-19

The coronavirus pandemic has created significant challenges for public procurement. This has led to a debate on whether current legal frameworks are adequate and in some countries has prompted rapid changes to the legal framework to address the new challenges. Internationally acclaimed scholars will discuss the new environment and its impact on the future of public procurement in Brazil and around the world.

Professor Sue Arrowsmith QC (hon), BA, DJur, MCIPS

Achilles Professor of Public Procurement Law and Policy and Director of the Postgraduate executive programme in Public Procurement Law and Policy, University of Nottingham; Editor, Public Procurement Law Review and author of numerous books on public procurement, including the leading UK and EU text, The Law of Public and Utilities Procurement (3rd edition, Sweet & Maxwell).

Professor Marçal Justen Filho

JSD, LL.M. Full Professor, Federal University of Parana (UFPR; ret. 2006). Professor at the Postgraduate Program in Administrative Law, IDP (Brasília). Author of numerous books on administrative law and public procurement, including Curso de Direito Administrativo (13th edition, RT Thomson Reuters) and Comentários à Lei de Licitações e Contratos Administrativos (18th edition, RT Thomson Reuters). Partner at Justen, Pereira, Oliveira & Talamini.

12 May 2020

11am BRT (Sao Paulo)
3pm BST (Nottingham)

Access · Live streaming at youtube.com/jpotadv

Moderator · Cesar Pereira

JSD, LL.M. Visiting Scholar at the University of Nottingham (2016). Partner at Justen, Pereira, Oliveira & Talamini

For more information on the University of Nottingham's procurement law programme, which covers global, regional and development aspects of public procurement with a range of specialist options, see: <http://www.nottingham.ac.uk/law/prospective/executiveprogrammes/index.aspx>. This is a part time distance learning programme for professionals (lawyers, procurement officials and regulators) leading to a postgraduate qualification (LLM, Certificate or Diploma) from one of the UK's top Law Schools. No prior legal knowledge is required.